VOLUME 1—NUMBER 247

PADUCAH, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1897.

TEN CENTS A WEEK

ANOTHER TWISTER

Wrecks the Town of Rich Hill, Missouri.

FIRE AT NICHOLASVILLE.

Lewis, the Notorious Murderer, Hanged Today.

OTHER HAPPENINGS OF A DAY.

Rich Hill, Mo., June 25.—A disastrous cyclone swept through this county this morning. Over one hundred houses in the path of the storm were destroyed and fifty persons were injured. All kinds of stock were killed. It is impossible to learn at this hour the full particulars of the storm. It is reported that Salsalia also felt the effect of the storm and has suffered severely.

WENT UP IN FLAMES

The Business Portion of Nicholasville Burned.

Nicholasville, Ky., June 25.—A disastrous fire occurred in this place this morning. The fire broke out in the business part of the town and spread rapidly. Five business houses, three offices and two residences were destroyed before the flames were subdued. The loss is estimated at something like forty thousand dollars.

RIOOTS IN SPAIN.

Heavy Fighting Between 8,000 Miners and the Government Troops.

Madrid, June 24.—Serious rioting has taken place at Merces, in the Oviedo province, which was supposed to be due to the increased taxes on food. There was heavy fighting between 8,000 miners and the Spanish troops, consisting of the civil guards and the Prussia regiment. Two rioters were killed and five severely and many slightly wounded. Two soldiers were killed and several wounded.

THE HEMP ROUTE.

Notorious Murderer Hanged at Noon Today.

June 25.—The famous Lewis gang of murderers was hanged at noon today.

RUN OUT OF TOWN.

Mormon Elders Not Wanted at Meridian, Miss.

Meridian, Miss., June 24.—Elders Lydell, Pomeroy, Parish and Jones, four Mormon elders from Utah, were run out of Meridian this afternoon. They have been in the city several days arranging for meetings and yesterday began a house to house canvass for the purpose of securing converts. This invasion of private residences aroused the people that a large crowd gathered at the arsenal well at junction of Fourth street and Twenty-third avenue this afternoon, and when they attempted to hold services the elders were politely but firmly notified by a committee of citizens, headed by the Hon. John W. Fowell, that the people would not allow the privacy of their homes to be thus invaded, and that the elders must leave town. They left on the first train.

DESTRUCTIVE

Storm Does Serious Damage in and About St. Louis.

St. Louis, June 24.—A terrible wind and rain storm, which prevailed today, was very destructive in the southwestern section of the city, where are located several of the city institutions. The poor-house suffered most. One of the buildings, in which were sheltered seventy-five inmates, all of them cripples, was partly demolished, and glass was shattered in the others. When the wind blew down the brick fell in among the patients, killing a number, but one was seriously injured. The storm also struck the insane asylum. Not much damage was done there, but the patients were terror-stricken.

Forest Park, one of the largest in the country, suffered considerably, trees being leveled in every direction. The weather bureau officials report the downpour of rain the heaviest this season.

The storm was particularly severe in river towns, Keokuk, Alton and Quincy suffering. Reports from Springfield, Decatur, Edgemoor and other Illinois towns say the rain was very heavy there.

MISSISSIPPI LYING.

Crystal Springs, Miss., June 25.—Mr. James Moreley, a prominent citizen of this county, was brutally murdered by a negro. This morning at 9:30 the negro was taken from the jail by a mob of two hundred and was lynched.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 25.—J. H. Bible, a prominent lawyer, was found dead in his bed this morning. He was fifty-eight years of age.

LYNCHING THREATEND

Indignant People May Take the Law in Their Hands

Corbin, Ky., June 25.—The murder of John W. Corley, the Louisville shoe drummer, by Dan L. Curry, yesterday, has caused wide spread indignation, and threats of lynching the murderer are openly made. As the circumstances become more fully understood the more furious the deeds appear.

Corley was at one time engaged to Mrs. Curry, and Curry has always been jealous of him. Corley was in the city yesterday on business.

Curry, meeting Corley, said: "We will go before my wife, and if she says she is guilty of improper conduct with you, then I'll leave her; but if she says she is innocent, then one of us must die."

Corley accompanied Curry to his home, and in the presence of his wife Curry made accusations of improper conduct, all of which Corley, as well as Mrs. Curry, emphatically denied. Curry then ordered Corley out of the house, and as he rose from his chair Curry fired twice in quick succession. Corley threw up his hands and cried: "Don't shoot any more, you've killed me," and fell to the floor dead.

Curry viewed his victim a moment, then fired three more shots into his private form. The shooting took place in the presence of Curry's wife and little child.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of willful murder.

Corley was a high Mason and a prominent member of the Travelers' Protective Association.

MORE COMPLICATIONS.

Arise in Lyon County Over the Penitentiary Muddle.

C. J. Caulfield Brings Suit Against Gov. Bradley and the Commissioners.

Quite a sensation has been created at Kuttawa, over the muddle of a muddle yesterday through his attorney, Sam C. Molloy, at Edinburg, by C. J. Caulfield against Gov. Bradley and the other members of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners. The suit grows out of the attempt of the board to remove Caulfield as clerk of the Edinburg penitentiary.

The petition alleges that the statutes of Kentucky give the commissioners the right to remove for cause, but that no cause existed nor was he removed. The action of the board is declared illegal and that Caulfield, who is now attempting to act as clerk, be required to vacate the office. Caulfield, while not in possession of the office and although refused admittance, still holds the combination to the safe and keys to the dock in which the records of the penitentiary are kept.

BROKE THE BOAT.

Narrow Escape of Cooper Williams Yesterday.

Other Accident News of General Interest.

A Cooper named Williams, who lives near Third and Jackson, had a narrow escape yesterday over in the lake during the storm. He was out fishing in a "john boat" when the wind blew down a tree and it fell directly across the boat, splitting it in two. Williams narrowly escaped drowning, and borrowed a boat from Mr. George Jones, by which to return home.

Mr. R. E. Harris, the lumber inspector, had two fingers on his left hand painfully nipped yesterday in Langstaff's lumber yard.

George Anderson, kulbuck, an employee of the C. & O. had his left foot painfully nipped yesterday. A door blew shut on it during the wind.

"Big Sandy," a big carrier at work on the I. C. show addition, fell into a pit in the machine shops yesterday and was badly lamed up.

John Adams, a stove hand, who had a leg crushed while loading staves at Dyersburg a few days ago, was brought in last night and placed in the railroad hospital.

Master Edgar Fox, son of Prof. E. A. Fox, Principal of the Third District school, fell from a picket fence yesterday afternoon and was severely injured by having a prong stuck through his jaw.

STORM LIGHTS.

Florence Station Gets a Hard Blow This Morning.

"Square Harper, off Florence Station, was in the city this morning, and reports that a severe storm passed over that section this morning about 3 o'clock, and did considerable damage to crops. He left before the full extent of the damage was learned.

Reports from southern Illinois are that the wheat crops have been badly damaged by the recent rains and wind. The grain has been blown and beaten down until it can hardly be harvested.

If you have a picture to frame send it to C. E. Smith, 118 North Fourth street.

PROVED FATAL.

Robt. Molett Died at 12:15 Last Night.

INQUEST HELD THIS AFTERNOON.

Robt. Smith Will Now Be Wanted for Murder.

DIED OF CONCUSSION AND LOCKJAW.

Robert Molett, colored, who had been in a critical condition at the county jail for the past few days as a result of a blow near the right eye, inflicted by a brick thrown by Robt. Smith, died at 12:15 o'clock last night in terrible agony.

Day before yesterday Molett was taken to the city hall for trial, but the case was deferred and he was returned to jail. He was in good spirits for about thirty minutes after being locked up, but suddenly began to complain of pains in his head.

County Physician Brothers was called and administered to his wants, and he rested well that night, but yesterday began to get worse, and blood and pus flowed from his mouth. His jaws were set, and he evident had lockjaw. The swelling changed from the right to the left side, and he began to suffer great pain.

Dr. Brothers at first was confident Molett was dying, but after a while he changed his mind, and ordered Deputy Jailer Grady that the prisoner could not possibly live through the night. Three prisoners were left to attend him, and at 12:15, by a watch carried by one of the nurses, he breathed his last.

William Hallentine, who slept in the hospital, was called and sent after Deputy Jailer Grady, and this morning at 9 o'clock the remains were carried to Nance's undertaking establishment, and the time for holding the inquest set for 1 o'clock.

The deceased lived at New Orleans, but had been about here for several months, doing most any kind of work. He leaves no parents, but has a cousin in Grand Rivers.

Last week Molett, Robt. Smith and several others engaged in a crap game down about the river, and Smith won from Molett $1.75. Molett asked for the loan of a quarter, and being refused, cut Smith on the throat, but the cash amounted only to a scratch. Molett claimed he was drunk and had no recollection of the cutting.

A day or two afterwards, however, Smith met him and demanded to know why he did it, and the two had an altercation. Smith hit Molett with a brick and ran. When Molett was picked up there was a pistol near him, but he swore it did not belong to him. Mr. Mack Bailey saw the difficulty, however, and testified that Molett had the pistol in his hand when Smith struck him with the brick. Smith was held on a charge of malicious assault and Molett for perjury.

Smith, when informed of Molett's death this morning, did not evince any fear or remorse, and said he felt sure he would be acquitted, as he struck Molett to keep him from shooting him.

Coroner Nance this afternoon at 3 o'clock held an inquest, and heard the evidence of Mr. Mack Bailey and Dr. Brothers. He will swear out a warrant against Smith this afternoon, charging him with murder.

The remains of Molett will be buried tomorrow. He is the third prisoner to die in the county jail in the past several years. Dr. Brothers says he died of concussion of the brain.

"ROMEO AND JULIET."

Goes On at the Casino Theatre Tonight.

Other Amusement Notes.—"Ten Nights in a Bar Room" at La Belle.

The Casino Stock Company will tonight put on a new bill, but the burlesque, in which Mr. Chalmers Koehler is to appear, is counted on account of the failure of his costume and will be on next week.

Tonight—Romero and Juliet.—The Rough Diamond, and specialties will be put on, and a large crowd is expected.

There was a small but appreciative audience at the Casino last night to witness the second production of "Queen Esther," under the direction of Prof. Charles Davis.

The performance was very creditable, and passed off more smoothly than the one at Morton's opera house Monday night.

There was a fairly large crowd at LaBelle Park last night to witness "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," by the Phillips Stock Company. The performance was very good, and fairly appreciated by the audience.

MUCH ADD ABOUT NOTHING.

"Where Is Miss Beavers?" She Is Right Here.

And She Wasn't Murdered and She Wasn't Married.

The "Register" is well maintaining its pretensions of giving the news, and of comparing its features with those of other papers. This morning, under the same head caption, "Where Is Miss Beavers?" it proposed to create a robust and very unnecessary sensation over her "mysterious disappearance."

Her friends fear that she has fallen the victim of foul play in some manner or else she has secretly eloped by prearrangement and married.

The facts in the whole matter are simply that Miss Eulah Beavers, of Paris, Tenn., came to Paducah Wednesday last to have her eyes treated by Dr. A. H. Edwards. She is a guest of Miss Perry Gerald, 815 South Fifth street, and yesterday afternoon started to the doctor's office to have an operation performed on her eyes.

She forgot the number of his office, and in looking about chanced to meet Mrs. J. A. James, wife of License Inspector James, an old friend, and accompanied her to her home at Third and Madison, then spending the night. She turned up alive and well this morning, having escaped both the "foul play" and "marriage," arranged for her by an enterprising contemporary.

CITIZENS OF PADUCAH.

Your attention is called to the proposition offered by the proprietors of the New Star Laundry (Leach Block), to do any and every character of work done in this line, and upon the shortest notice possible to make the work satisfactory.

As in our new place we are provided with commodious rooms, finished for our purposes, and containing a selection of such modern appliances in each department of its apparatus, electric motor power, and every equipment essential to do rapid and thorough work, and to give to patrons every assurance offered by professional laundries anywhere.

In changing our location from our old stand, No. 104 Broadway, to our most delightful position on North Fourth street, we were impelled, not alone by the lack of physical comfort and need of space for our employees, but chiefly for the reason that our business was so increased and a constantly growing patronage that we were forced to secure other and more desirable quarters.

Five years ago we began business at the old stand on Broadway in a very limited way with one or two hands who were sufficient to answer our needs of help, but the business has so increased that more space and added machinery was an absolute necessity, with all of which we are now supplied.

Large, well ventilated rooms, every manner of needed machinery and appliance to furnish our fourteen employees (instead of one or two) means of constant employment in meeting the demands of our business.

Large individual and family patronage throughout the city and adjacent cities, besides the work of the Palmer house and transient work from its hotel and that of the Richmond House the greater portion of the time until its close recently, for all of which patronage we are "profoundly thankful, and hope with the care and expense incurred by us in our change made, to have a continuation of the favors shown us by your patronage in the past and earnestly solicit the further test of our capacity to do satisfactory work, and to a largely increased extent, for which we are now fully prepared in every way, and respectfully ask every body to give us the opportunity. Call and see us. No. 120 North Fourth street.

A SHORT POLICE COURT.

Two Obstreperous Females Fined This Morning.—Two Boys.

OTHER GENERAL POLICE NEWS.

Harry Owen and Lily Fuqua, white and colored respectively, were today warranted for fighting. Fuqua, with a wound on his head, from "his" considerable blood was spilt, was arrested and locked up. The boys fought near the First district school house.

Three warrants have been issued against Bruce Gilliam for his conduct at the Florence Station depot last Sunday. Justice Winchester issued them all. One charges him with cursing Adam Hughes, another with cursing Hughes' brother, and the third with making a general nuisance of himself. He lives in Graves county, and has not been arrested.

Case against Ida Jones, indicted at Benton for killing her cousin, Lee Rudolph, is set for tomorrow. The general opinion is that the shooting was accidental, although there are some suspicious circumstances connected with it.

Yesterday afternoon two prominent young men engaged in an exciting tussle over who was to pay for some damage to property done by the storm. One was knocked down twice by the other, who is a near relative by marriage. The latter then struck at him the third time and fell, skimming his nose. The latter was scolded in Justice Winchester's court, and the other was fined $5 and costs in Judge Sanders' court.

John Lark, the fisherman, who recently escaped from the chain gang and carried with him one of the city's shovels, was arrested this forenoon in Mechanicsburg by Lockup keeper Harry Keller and again landed in the lockup. He will be tried tomorrow and given a double sentence and may have to serve a term for petty larceny.

Ernest Dora Willis and Vic House, colored, engaged in a fight last night at a house on North Ninth street below Lally's grocery. Over a pair of curling irons. According to reports the Willis woman went to the other's house and knocked her down, being in turn knocked down by Wes (Hawkins the House woman's son, a lad would being inflicted over her eye. They all surrendered before Judge Sanders, and this morning in the police court the Willis woman wasn't there, and the case was continued until tomorrow.

The case against Fred Bement and George Davenport, charged with cutting Jim Page in Ballard county last week, is set for today before Squire Woodward at Lovelaceville. County Attorney Houser will defend.

Justice Winchester yesterday issued a warrant against Bruce Gilliam charging him with committing a breach of the peace at Florence Station by being profane and unruly, and taking charge of the depot platform.

My Francis Caldwell and Iselore Lerring, two notorious colored wenches, were charged with being common prostitutes and with visiting saloons. They pleaded guilty and were fined $5 and costs each.

The case against Robt. Smith and Robert Molett, colored, charged with malicious assault and false swearing respectively, were continued in Judge Sanders' court this morning on account of Molett's death, chronicled elsewhere.

The case against M. Ruth, for disposing of spoiled fish on the market, was continued until tomorrow.

didn't Stop the Car By Pushing on the Button.

A certain married man and a lady were all over town the other night where they could stop the street car by the right place. There was an electric button in the car in which they were seated. The lady said to her husband: "When we get to Broadway I shall push the button." He pushed the button, but the car kept on going.

"You didn't push hard enough," remarked.

"I pushed it as far as I could."
